Information We Collect

Your privacy is very important to us. Accordingly, we have developed this Policy in order for you to understand how we do not collect data behind the scenes to run advertising programs, nor do we sell such data to third parties. Yoga Keys Keyboard Extension does not collect data when you use it, in any format. We NEVER collect anything you type in password fields.

Apple's design "full access" permission is a setting of Yoga Keys Keyboard Extension, we will not collect any data, it's simply is required in the settings in order to enable the copy-paste functionality for the yoga icons (keys). The outcome of the keyboard extension is to help the yoga community remember the Sankrit name of each Yoga pose in English and Sanskrit by custom designed keys of our keyboard. In other words Yoga Keys is only a shortcut of Yoga poses that prints the name of each yoga pose onto any text field. When you allow "full access" in the settings under "add new keyboard" tab, you will encounter a warning message stating "full access allows the developer to transmit anything you type, including things you have previously typed with this keyboard. This could include sensitive information such as your credit card number or street address." This alert appears whenever "any" third-party input method is allowed full access. However, as stated above, we do not collect any personally identifiable data. We may collect data that is not personally identifiable to help enhance the functionality of our keyboard, allowing us to provide you with the best possible typing experience. We may also collect data that is not personally identifiable to allow us to understand which keys are being used the most, which then allows us to provide better content for you in future release.

Our Yoga Keys keyboard can collect two types of data - non personally identifiable:

- 1) Crash Data, including crash logs, in an anonymous format.
- 2) Settings Data such as setting preferences, keys usage.

We do not log data entered into password or credit card fields.

At any time you may withdraw consent of data collection by simply accessing the settings and disabling full access.

Periodically, we may make updates to this privacy policy, which will be posted on our web site and within our application. Please check these sources regularly to view our most recent policy. If we sell or transfer part or all our assets to another organization (e.g., in the case of a transaction such as a merger), the new privacy policy may govern your usage
